

Auto Glass Safety Council™ Validation:

Why Does It Matter?

The Auto Glass Safety Council (AGSC™) is the definitive authority on safe auto glass installation practices. The AGSC is responsible for North America's only auto glass replacement standard, the Auto Glass Replacement Safety Standard (AGRSS®).

Your assurance of safe and proper windshield installation is to know that your auto glass service provider is in compliance with the Auto Glass Replacement Safety Standard™.

AUTO GLASS TECHPOINTS

FATAL CRASH: THE WINDSHIELD FAILED

for instance, Jeanne Fransway would not have been ejected through the windshield and she might still be alive today. Who knows, how many other windshields have been and continue to be installed in this appallingly unprofessional manner, with total disregard for the safety of the customer? How many people unknowingly drive around in time bombs, courtesy of a glass company and/or installer that ignored state of the art installation

The replacement windshield had been installed a few months earlier.

The bond between the glass and the pinchweld was so weak, that the pressure of the crash was enough to push the windshield out. (It was put on the hood after the accident)

AGSC-Registered Members are committed to the highest standard of quality and the strongest commitment to safety. Visit www.safewindshields.org for a full list of AGSC Registered Members.

But how can you be sure?

By using an AGSC-Registered member.

The AGSC coordinates an independent third party auditor to validate compliance with the performance requirements of the Auto Glass Replacement Safety Standard by each company registered with the Auto Glass Safety Council. Each AGSC™ Registered Member undergoes a random periodic third party onsite audit—of its company, personnel and procedures. A validated commitment to safety by AGSC Registered Members is a safe bet for consumers.

Auto Glass Safety Council Validation:

Why does it matter?

Choose only AGSC Registered Members to provide you auto glass replacement services. Your safety depends on it!

The AGSC is a 501c(3) not-for-profit organization formed by those within the automotive glass replacement industry to develop a standard for the proper procedures, product performance and education relating to the proper installation of automotive replacement glass. AGSC-Registered Members have made a written commitment to adhere to the Standard and are subject to audit of their compliance with it.
